Title: Song of Sacrafice

Thou givest what thou
need'st no more:
I say thou givest
not!
For the measure
of true Sacrifice
Is giv'n from one's own lot.
Who giveth but one
piece of gold
Who hath but just the one Doth give more of a treasure-hoard
Then all the gold
beneath the sun.
For whoso giveth one
who needs
And thinks not of the price
Indeed has given
greatly:
And such is Sacrifice.
So keep thy worthless
pity!
We've had our share
of such,
But give what thou
will from thy
heart,
And thou'll have
given much.
